

"Drugs and I"

You have recently read the article "Drug use down among uncool kids" and discussed issues in relation to the topic. It's now time to do some writing. Some thoughts of yours might have been left unsaid but will not, hopefully, remain unwritten.

I want you to write an essay about your own relationship with drugs. Regardless if you have used them or not you have a relationship, or more specifically, opinions and thoughts about this issue. Many of you have, for instance, friends that have come in contact with drugs. Therefore, since it's an issue of increasing importance, I want you to write a personal essay that deals with the issue of drugs. It should be things that you have experienced, either directly, or through friends. Think, feel, reflect and write. Make it a text that shines with exquisite language and raises eyebrows. Use your checklists. Make it a text that you can be proud of. The title of your essay should be "Drugs and I".

GOOD LUCK
